Building a Brighter Future for Pakistan

Pakistan is a developing country. There are some areas of improvement as Pakistan is facing some challenging and lacking in the sector of opportunities. From these ways like improving Pakistan's Educational System, Revitalizing Pakistan's Economy and Reforming Pakistan's Legal System, we can overcome on these challenges.

1. Improving Pakistan's Educational System:

The educational system of Pakistan needs a huge improvement. The educational system of Pakistan is facing a downfall and suffering from a crisis of untrained teachers and uninterested syllabus patterns. This step of improvement of Pakistani Educational system is a complex task. It is necessary and the demand of the time to give the educational and to increase the literacy rate. This is done by the steps which the educational system has to take for the betterment of it. The steps are the proper training to the teachers, and the free books to the teachers as well as students so that the money will not be the barrier in achieving the path to success. The full stop to the corruption will also become the step for the improvement of the Pakistani educational system. The scholarship and funds to the deserving students and merit-based scholarships can improve the educational concept in the mind of people.

2. Revitalizing Pakistan's Economy:

The Pakistan's Economy is the main lead for the better future of Pakistan. This can be improved by reducing the rate of interest, which leads to the reduction of borrow concept, and increase the investment to the Pakistani companies. This will lead to the way which open the doors for the unemployed person, and decrease the unemployment rate by providing the job opportunities. The foreign investors are also the main key and can play the important part for the Pakistani Economy. By encouraging the foreign investors, by ensuring them the regularity, stability, transparency and sustainability, they will invest in Pakistan and Pakistan, by this, can attract the foreign technologies and policies. The economic growth in transportation, energy, and telecommunication can be improved by the investments in these sectors. So, by these steps of investments and encouraging the foreign investors the economy of Pakistan will change in the better way.

3. Reforming Pakistan's Legal System:

The Law means the Islamic law, as Pakistan is an Islamic country and Islam provides the complete concept of equality, justice, compassion. The reforming Pakistan's legal system is essential for the justice and equality for society betterment. We can achieve these objectives by adopting the Islamic law and make it our pillar to build the legal system of our country. By adopting the Islamic law and rules we can achieve the fairness and equality in the country and can protect the fundamental rights of a human. The Islamic concept of listening of both parties and then decide is the main concept which can lead us to the betterment of the legal system. This Islamic law is clear, fair and on point without any mistake, so by applying it we can achieve the harmony in the society. Reforming Pakistan's Legal System is crucial for the sake of equality as well as for the fulfilment of Islam principles.

4. Leveraging Digital IT Services:

The Leveraging of digital IT services provides a chance to young people to reduce the unemployment. The investment in IT sector, the country can build the community that have technologies and innovations. The key points for the innovation of IT sector are high speed internet, the huge networking platforms for communication and connectivity and also for the transactions in the reaction of provided services. By this sector, the young people, can earn from the home and can bear the expenses of the education at their own and it may lead to the new youth which have innovative ideas to build the overall structure and representation of the country and make a name in the history of world by the representation of the Pakistan in the sector of IT and technology. The training programs and the skill development programs with low fees can lead to the way which open the doors for the new digital tools and technology creation from the Pakistan to the world and recognized as the Pakistani website, tool, framework or app etc. This sector has the option of freelancing and remote work means to work from the home and in this the male as well as female, the unhealthy people or physically weak people can earn from it and can provide their services and sell their talent and earn from that.

5. Dr. Afia and Palestine: Symbols of Resistance:

The Palestine and the Dr. Afia Siddiqui are the symbol of strength, they are the source of inspiration, they are at the peak of faith on Allah, they are completing their mission as a Muslim. Both stand against the wrong, against the oppression, against the equality, against the people who are against the Islam and Its rules. Dr. Afia, a Pakistani neuroscientist, was arrested, miss treated on the subject of 9/11 era. She is a lady of iron; she stands alone against the war of inequality. On the other side, the Palestine and the Palestinians, are suffering from the war and bombing process. They are in a miserable condition. They are in such a bad condition that the whole world, who have a heart in the body, feel their pain and stand with them either they are Muslim or not. They are facing the challenge and are in a struggle of freedom and justice.

6. The Mission of a Muslim:

As the Muslim, we mission is to become the better version of ourselves, and serve the community, society or the country by following the law, guidelines, and the principles of Islam just for the sake of Allah. Our faith is that the Allah is one, so our mission will be that to prove it with our faith on Allah so that the non-Muslims get impressed by our personality and study Islam. We are the creation of Allah and our mission is to server the humanity by the mean of spirit means the personality, the faith, the justice, the equality, the kindness and many more, and the other one is to server humanity by the mean of wealth or money. To help the people in need, to provide the shelter to homeless, to provide hand of help to women and respect ithers no matter what if they are Muslim or not. The personal act like prayers, charity, purity of heart, say no to haram, and acts of devotion are the main mission as a Muslim.

7. Effective Programs like SDL:

The SDL program is effective, as it gives me a chance to deep dive into myself, to ask question to myself that what you want to do, and how you will achieve it. This program helped me to be punctual and be prepared for the next challenge or assignment of next day. This program has to focus on self-recognition, skill development, the skill learning the platform for earning the ways to achieve the goals and to use the skill for the earning purpose. Programs like SDL should be launched nationwide with modifications to address various challenges, and educational institutes must provide facilities. and resources to support these initiatives. SDL program is overall proved good for me and I want to do more courses like this on future.
