1) Improving Pakistan's Educational System:-

In order to improve the education system of Pakistan it is necessary to make a fair system of education. The access of ^{the} poor to education should be made easy. Education should be public. Literacy rate should be increased. Educational institutions should be established where there are no educational institutions. The Islamic education system should be made public. Islam & Islamic values should be promoted. Everyone should be equipped with education. Education should be made free for the poor. The law of the buffalo should be abolished. The education system should be such that the poor are not deprived of their basic rights. In the educational system, the system given by the British should be negated which is against Islam. The educational institutions should be limited to providing education and real knowledge. There should be a free education system not the one created by the British which restricts the human being and deprives him of the ability to think and understand. Islamic principles should be promoted. The youth should be made aware of Ghalib's thought.

2) Revitalizing Pakistan Economy:-

The only solution to improve Pakistan's economy is the establishment of Nizam-e-Mustafa (نظامِ مِصْتَفَا). When that system comes, everything will be fine everywhere. The country's economy will advance by eliminating usury. Usury & Zakat system can bring prosperity to the country. A usury-free society can be prosperous. The system established by Hazrat Abu Bakr and Hazrat Umar Farooq must be established. The state of Madinah should be established.

employment should be provided, farmers should be strengthened. The feudal system should be abolished. People should be given loans on easy terms and opportunities to work hard should be provided. The ways of doing business should be told to promote the business. Every youth should be made skilled. Good relations should be established with developed countries and exchange rate should be developed for the strength of the economy.

3) Reforming Pakistan's legal system:-

This is only one way to reform the legal system of Pakistan and that is to incorporate Islamic law. Islamic law should be enforced. There is only an Islamic law that can bring prosperity in the society. Due to which everything will be distributed fairly in the society & work will be done with justice and fairness. Nations are destroyed when the law is applied to the poor and rich are left behind. This type of law and system has no place in Islam, nor does Islam allow it. The legal system should be such that it gives justice to every individual no matter who he is; no one should be treated unfairly, and such a law is only Islamic law in which the rich and poor all are equal and which brings rights to the door of the poor.

4) Harnessing Digital IT services:-

The world of IT is a very big world but the problem is that the young generation is being deprived from it. Children's brains have been paralyzed. They are given only the concept of Dr & Engineer from the beginning although there are many other things that can make a person independent & successful such as world of IT. It is such a world where about can be achieved with the little investment. The world has gone very far in this field of IT, it is a great tool to end un-employment. The young generation of the nation should be introduced to the world of IT. Organisations should budget for it and give jobs to the young generation to work in it - as in the rest of the field. This should also be looked into and work should be done to improve it. It is better ^{to stay independent} than being a slave to someone.

Our institutions should pay attention to IT so that young generation can become independent by working in it and this country too. Steps should be taken to improve infrastructure of IT department.

3) Dr. Aafia and Palestine:-

When the truth always came forward to cut off the head of falsehood. The bringers of the truth are always few just as those who have the pains of the truth in their hands are always few in number. But if we see a practical example of this in the modern age, then she is Dr. Aafia Siddiqui. Hard times surely come to those who are right, but the victory is always for those who are right. Our history is the witness for all this which we have only heard & read. Dr. Aafia Siddiqui endured the cruelty & put his life in the hell of the America, but she did not compromise her faith she did not sell the truth. Dr. Aafia is a huge wall against oppression. That's why she is being oppressed for so many years. There is no doubt that she is right. Then when will she be freed? we can free her. we must take steps at our own level to bring her back. we must raise awareness about her in our nation and young ones. Everyone must show and tell that the world that we have not forgotten our sister. we ^{should be} ~~are~~ ready to sacrifice everything for ^{her} freedom. because her imprisonment is the test of this Muslim Ummah.

I had only heard about the events of Karbala and the battle b/w right and wrong. Today fighting the truth against falsehood, sacrificing everything, but standing firm on faith, fighting the tyrant of time with only wealth of faith which I have seen in practice is Palestine. We must raise our voice for them and strive for them their freedom. The issue of Palestine is the issue of the entire Muslim Ummah. We should take practical steps for the freedom of Bait-ul-Maqadas.

6) The Mission of a Muslim:-

The purpose of a Muslim's life is to glorify the religion of Allah and his beloved prophet (PBUH). Muslim practice Islam in the true sense. He is a believer of Allah in every aspect of his life. Islam is in him. He is the one who speaks the truth, stay honest, the one who does justice, the one who stops and stops evils, the one who serve humanity. He sees this in every aspect of his life, what the Lord says in every matter instead of what people say. His priorities are pleasure of Allah and to follow orders of Islam. He should always think about how he can please Almighty Allah and then he spends his life in this quest. He tries to never give any harm to other human beings or Muslims.

7) Effective Programs like SDH:-

SDH program has been very useful and effective and has led to a lot of learning at home. Time had to pass even after sitting free. but I am thankful to KITREWS because of them time was not wasted. I have learned something unique, interesting and useful. There was a lot to learn about. I was zero about many things but now Allah

I found out a lot of interesting things. Knowledge increased and I got an opportunity to think about the problems of this country and think about their solutions. I thought more about the goals of my life and followed them. There was a determination to do, a concern. Above all it seemed as if an attempt was made to wake up the sleeping minds. Such programs should continue, the youth will get a thought, an idea and ~~be~~ will be able to play his important role in the society. The education system that we are enacting has made us think that the ability to think and understand has been taken away, we have been limited, so there should be such programs. And it was quite useful and interesting.
